*FrankErb.org, CapitolCom.org

Luis Palau, International Evangelist

"I have observed the ministry and the serious commitment that Frank Erb has exercised in Sacramento, Capital of California. I have observed his relationship with State Senators and Assembly Members. I have noticed the respect he has gained from the political class of California. I have prayed with Frank Erb for the life responsibilities and burdens that these politicians carry. And I believe that the biblical bases and the practical wisdom that Frank Erb has practiced is the kind of ministry that every state capitol as well as the federal government politicians need in the USA. I pray that God will continue to uphold and use the ministry of Frank Erb in California. I also want to encourage all believers who care for the state of the nation for the direction of the political dialogue national and state-wide, to support Frank Erb's ministry.

Dr. G. Henry Wells, Pastor Emeritus, Fair Oaks Presbyterian Church

"The best thing happening at our California State Capitol these days is Frank Erb, Pastor to the Capitol. Our legislators need the spiritual leadership of Jesus Christ to get us through the most critical time in our state's history. Frank's winsome way demonstrates to both sides of the aisle that Jesus loves them and offers through prayer a greater power than themselves."

Rick Penner, Executive Pastor, Redding Christian Fellowship

"I have had the opportunity to observe Frank Erb first hand and strongly endorse his strategic ministry as a pastor/missionary to our state legislators, staff personnel and lobbyists. Frank has exhibited, for more than a decade, a genuine concern for the women and men in our State Capitol regardless of party affiliation or position. He has earned their respect and it is my privilege to commend Frank enthusiastically. He consistently serves as "salt and light" as he serves in our Capitol."

Rick Weber, Nor-Cal Regional Minister, North American Baptist Conference

"I have found Frank Erb a thoughtful, dedicated, and articulated follower of Jesus, in whatever capacity he is serving, whether in Church life, or in his important role serving at our state Capitol in Sacramento. I strongly recommend Frank to you without reservation, as a servant of Christ to be held in high regard."

Dr. John MacArthur, Pastor, Grace Community Church

“Scripture tells us to pray for our leaders and those in authority over us. In fact, the Apostle Paul goes even further to say that our prayers should be evangelistic because God our Savior desires all men to be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth. If we are responsible to pray for the salvation and sanctification of our leaders, it follows that we should be engaged in every effort possible to impact them for the gospel. Capitol Commission does just that by placing trained men of God in state capitols to be effective evangelists and edifiers. We at Grace Community Church wholeheartedly endorse this effort.”

Dr. Steven J. Lawson, Senior Pastor, Christ Fellowship Baptist Church

“I am thankful for the ministry of Capitol Commission. In a day when the direction of our government is so quickly changing, a strong Christian witness is desperately needed at all levels. God has ordained the government, and we must do all we can to influence its officials and staff with the life-changing truths of His Word. May the Lord enhance and expand the outreach of this Bible-centered work.”

Kevin DeYoung, Senior Pastor, Christ Covenant Church

“I’m grateful for the work the Capitol Commission is doing to share the gospel with those who serve in our nation’s state capitols. As someone who has always taken an interest in the intersection of faith and politics, it’s encouraging to see evangelical Christians laboring among lobbyists and lawmakers of both parties that they might hear of Christ, believe in Christ, and be built up in Christ.”

Dr. Erwin W. Lutzer, Senior Pastor, The Moody Church, Chicago

“Believing that the Gospel is non-partisan, and needed by all, Capitol Commission has the vision of sharing the good news with all who are in government, no matter their political affiliation. Great idea! And Biblical!”

Dr. Joe Stowell, President, Cornerstone University

“In our world, bringing the transforming influence of the gospel into the halls of power is no small thing. Especially in a political environment where chaos, rivalry and tactics of revenge hamper officials to do their work of bringing peace, safety and security to their citizens. Ultimately, the only way to bring effective change is by changing the lives of our leaders and supporting the officials that lead in the ways of Jesus. Thankfully the ministry of Capitol Commission is busy about changing our political climate, one life at a time! I'm a raving fan!”

Dr. Gene Getz, President of Center for Church Renewal

"I thank God for men and women who are deeply concerned about our government leaders and who are taking specific steps to reach our Capitol Communities for Christ. I'm honored to endorse this ministry!"

David Barton, President and Founder, WallBuilders

"Our nation's Founders were steeped in Biblical truths, and the impact of Biblical principles on American society and government cannot be overstated. Capitol Commission is raising a standard of Biblical truth and principles in the heart of state capitols across the nation by their work with state legislators, and the beneficial impact of their labors also cannot be overstated. I encourage you to participate in the work of Capitol Commission."

Anne Graham Lotz, President of AnGel Ministries, daughter of Billy Graham

"Capitol Commission shares with government leaders and legislators of every political persuasion the love of God as proclaimed through the Gospel of Jesus Christ, challenging them to live a transformed life personally and professionally that is founded on Biblical truth. I commend this strategic and vital ministry to you."

Dr. Danny Akin, President, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary

"I'm excited to commend to you Capitol Commission...a ministry seeking to reach a very particular and important people group----politicians. It is a ministry that is mobilizing people and churches to share the gospel and disciple new believers so that we might have people in positions of influence who will make a Godly impact for our nation.....a ministry that is very vital to the welfare and health of our nation. They hold in their hands the future of our children and our grandchildren. This is a ministry that I believe in, a ministry that I support."

John Stumbo, President, The Christian and Missionary Alliance (CMA)

"As followers of Christ, we are commissioned to make disciples of all people. We are commanded to pray for those in authority over us. God has raised up Capitol Commission to help the church fulfill these concerns of our Lord. Ministering to both sides of the aisle and mobilizing prayerful saints, Capitol Commission is a rare and welcome ministry."

Dr. George O. Wood, General Superintendent, Assemblies of God

The Executive Leadership Team for The General Council of the Assemblies of God took action to endorse the ministry of Capitol Commission. This cross-denominational ministry is effectively reaching into a vital mission field that can have far-reaching consequence in helping to preserve strong moral and spiritual foundations in our nation's state governments. ... Your help and support will encourage this initiative to move forward and, with the leading of the Holy Spirit, be a transformational influence in a culture that is largely unreached with a gospel witness.”

Stephen Davey, President - Shepherds Theological Seminary

“In the first century, the gospel of Christ reached the highest echelon of power within the Roman empire so effectively that the Apostle Paul could send greetings to believers who lived and served in the household of Caesar. Twenty centuries later, Colonial Baptist Church is privileged to support the ministry of Capitol Commission – a ministry that is reaching, instructing and encouraging a new generation of political leaders throughout our nation’s capitol by delivering the wisdom and perspective found only in God’s timeless Word.”

Dr. Woodrow Kroll, President & Senior Bible Teacher, Back to the Bible

“The Apostle Paul was very clear about the function of government. It is designed for the good of the people (Romans 13:3). Good government is where those who govern are informed by God and His Word. Capitol Commission’s mission to reach the Capitol community with the Gospel of Jesus Christ and to disciple them in God’s Word is critical to the production of good government. Back to the Bible
